

PressRelease

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Ransom & Randolph Names Daniel Nixon Chief Executive Officer

Strategic appointment reinforces R&R's vision for global growth and innovation across industries.

Maumee, OH – April 29, 2025 — Ransom & Randolph (R&R), a global leader in investment casting serving the dental, jewelry, art and industrial markets for over a century, is pleased to announce the appointment of Daniel Nixon as President & CEO, effective immediately.

Nixon has served as President of R&R since 2021 and Managing Director of Ransom & Randolph GmbH since 2023, leading the company through a major transition following its divestiture from Dentsply Sirona. His new role as CEO reflects the steady leadership he's brought to the company and the clear direction he's established for the future.

Over the course of his 25-year tenure with R&R and Dentsply Sirona, Nixon has consistently identified growth opportunities, navigated industry shifts, and delivered results. From implementing R&R's first industrial and jewelry investment operations in Europe, the acquisition of the Kerr investment line, to reestablishing R&R's leadership in dental casting technologies, Nixon has laid the groundwork for R&R's global resurgence.

"This appointment is in direct correlation to Dan's leadership and the company's substantial growth over the past four years," said Philip Kamins, Chairman of the Board and Strategic Advisor for PMC Capital, R&R's parent company. "Dan's deep industry knowledge, hands-on experience, and proven track record of executing bold strategies make him the ideal person to continue leading R&R into its next chapter. Under his direction, R&R is honoring its legacy, while building a future defined by innovation, global reach, and customer focus."

During his time as Vice President and Business Unit Manager at Dentsply Sirona, Nixon led cross-functional teams through complex organizational shifts, including the buyout of R&R. In various roles at

About Ransom & Randolph

Founded in 1872, Ransom & Randolph (R&R) is a recognized leader in the global investment casting industry. For over 150 years, R&R has supported dental labs, jewelers, artists, and industrial foundries with lost-wax casting technologies. With operations in the U.S. and Europe, R&R serves customers worldwide through high-quality materials, adaptable solutions, and a hands-on approach shaped by more than a century of trust. Visit Ransom-Randolph.com to learn more.

For more information | PRESS ONLY

Contact:
ALLISON RICHARD
DIRECTOR OF MARKETING
O: 419-794-1202
MARKETING@RANSOM-RANDOLPH.COM

R&R, he expanded market share, launched award-winning technologies such as BANDUST™, and secured multiple strategic product line acquisitions. Most recently, Nixon has overseen R&R's entry into the digital dental space in investment casting and the global expansion of its footprint.

“I’m honored to take on this expanded role,” said Nixon. “Ransom & Randolph has always stood for quality, technical excellence, and partnership. We are now poised to leverage that legacy across traditional and digital markets, while continuing to serve as a trusted partner to our customers in aerospace, defense, jewelry, dental, and beyond.”

#####

About Ransom & Randolph

Founded in 1872, Ransom & Randolph (R&R) is a recognized leader in the global investment casting industry. For over 150 years, R&R has supported dental labs, jewelers, artists, and industrial foundries with lost-wax casting technologies. With operations in the U.S. and Europe, R&R serves customers worldwide through high-quality materials, adaptable solutions, and a hands-on approach shaped by more than a century of trust. Visit Ransom-Randolph.com to learn more.

For more information | PRESS ONLY

Contact:
ALLISON RICHARD
DIRECTOR OF MARKETING
O: 419-794-1202
MARKETING@RANSOM-RANDOLPH.COM