

NEYCRAFT™ MULTIZONE™ DUPLICATING UNIT

The Neycraft duplicating unit is an innovative and user-friendly unit capable of meeting the changing needs of your lab as workflow increases and decreases. The Neycraft duplicating unit features smart capabilities to work with variable capacities (1, 2, or 3 gallons) of material, decreasing the chance of burning. This unit gives the user complete temperature control, allowing the user to input their desired melting temperature, idle temperature, and hold time.

The Neycraft duplicating unit offers precise and reliable operation as well as customizable programming, smart capabilities, and advanced safety features. The Neycraft Multizone duplicating unit comes preprogrammed and ready-to-use with the ability to adjust features easily.

All Neycraft duplicating units and centrifugal casting machines, alongside R&R's Vulcan® burnout furnaces, are proudly made 100% in the USA.
