Ransom & Randolph Announces Leadership Transition

Maumee, OH – July 23, 2018 – Today, Ransom & Randolph announced the upcoming leadership transition of Mike Hendricks to Applications Engineering Director, being replaced by Dan Nixon as new Vice President, Business Unit Manager.

Effective September 1, 2018, Mike Hendricks will transition from Business Unit Manager to Applications Engineering Director. By moving to this role, Mike is providing an opportunity for long term leadership stability and addressing immediate organizational needs in Application Engineering. Replacing Mike in his previous role will be Dan Nixon, who has been appointed as Vice President, Business Unit Manager.

After six years of successfully leading R&R, Mike has decided to move into the Applications Engineering Director position, resuming his previous technology role. Providing exceptional technical support is a top priority for R&R and Mike's expertise will prove invaluable to customers.

Mike joined R&R in 1988. Since that time, he has held a number of key roles in the business, some of which include Operations Director and Business Unit Director. Mike holds a Chemical Engineering degree from the University of Dayton.

Dan Nixon brings a strong background as he started his tenure with R&R in 2000 as a Marketing Specialist. Throughout his 12 years with R&R, Dan assumed roles of increasing responsibility, including Sales Manager and Business Unit Director – Jewelry/Solid Mold. In 2012, Dan accepted a position at our corporate office, where he became a Regional Sales Manager for the Dentsply Sirona North America sales team.

Dan most recently held the role of Corporate Director, E-Business, where he was responsible for supporting the implementation and ongoing enhancement of Dentsply Sirona's global web presence and e-commerce channel. Dan is a graduate of The University of Toledo, where he earned his Bachelor's degree in Business, as well as his MBA.

"Mike and Dan will be working very closely over the next few months to seamlessly transition responsibilities and will continue to work together to best serve our customers," said Tom Leonardi, Dentsply Sirona Vice President, "Please join me in thanking Mike for his leadership and congratulating both on their new opportunities."
