Ransom & Randolph Introduces UltraGyp™ 30 Gypsum Cement

Maumee, Ohio – October 12, 2026 - Ransom & Randolph (R&R), a global leader in investment casting materials, today announced the launch of UltraGyp™ 30 gypsum cement for patternmaking and precision tooling applications.

Designed for accuracy, surface hardness and dimensional stability, UltraGyp 30 features low expansion, a gradual set and extended working time to help users produce accurate molds, models and tooling components with consistent results. It is well suited for splash-casting molds and models used with phenolic, polyester and epoxy resins, as well as other applications that require a durable gypsum tooling medium.

UltraGyp 30 is easy to mix, pour and work with when used according to R&R's recommended instructions. It is initially available in a 44 lb box.

"As the U.S. gypsum market continues to change, customers need a dependable option from a supplier that understands their work," said Daniel Nixon, President and CEO of Ransom & Randolph. "UltraGyp 30 gives us another way to support tooling customers with technical expertise and responsive service."

R&R provides product information, mixing guidance, technical data and safety documentation to help customers evaluate UltraGyp 30 for their applications.

UltraGyp 30 is available through R&R, participating distributors and the R&R online store: shop.ransom-randolph.com/ultragyp-30-gypsum-cement.
